

SUBMISSION REPORT AFTER EXAMINATION

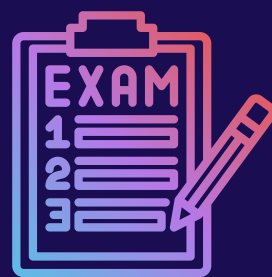

AS17 THESIS REPORT AND GRANT REPORT

It is the student's responsibility to submit the revised report in order to claim the next installment of research funds each semester. The subsequent installments will be disbursed after the submission of the revised report.

1

AFTER EXAMINATION

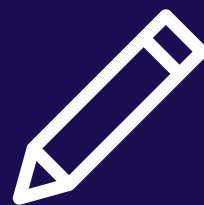

Upon successful completion of the Thesis Examination (Proposal-CE/QE, Progress and Defense), Internship Examination, and Special Study Examination, the student is required to submit the revised report along with the checklist through the online system (AS17 form).

2

REVISION OF REPORT

The student must address the comments provided by the examiners and make necessary revisions to the report. If the examiners suggest modifying the topic, the student must submit a request using the AS09 form.

3

CHECKLIST

The checklist serves as evidence of the revision made and requires approval from the advisor. The student can download the checklist from the JGSEE website.

4

SUBMISSION OF AS17

The student must complete and submit the AS17 Thesis Report and Grant Report form through the online system. The revised report and the checklist must be uploaded using this form. This should be done within 30 days from the date of the examination, excluding the Thesis defense. In the case of Thesis defense, the submission of AS17 should be completed after finishing step 5. Failure to submit within the specified timeframe will result in a fine of 50 baht per day.

5

ADDITIONAL REQUIREMENT

After successfully passing the defense examination:

PhD students must submit one hard copy and a PDF file of the thesis to the Academic Section within 60 days after the final defense examination.

Master's students must submit a PDF file of their thesis report, with the necessary corrections made and plagiarism checked, to the Academic Section within 60 days after the final defense examination.

Failure to meet these requirements will result in a grade of "U" for the thesis, and the student will be required to retake the final defense examination and register for the following semester.
